There's 3 options for powering the Pi & ' screen. I think the screen requires at least 500mA, and the Pi3 requires 2.5A. To power both from a single battery means you'll need a battery pack that can support 3A output from a single USB connection. Or a battery with 2 outputs, at least 2.5A on one and 500mA on the other. Or two battery packs.
