Dongguan Howell Energy Co., Ltd. is a new energy innovative technology company dedicated to providing safe and reasonable lithium battery solutions and services for global new energy application customers.

Battery power modules (BPMs) with associated power converters are connected in series to comply with a high load voltage. With bidirectional power converters, BPMs can perform buck conversion for the charging operation. The continuous conduction mode (CCM) and the discontinuous conduction mode (DCM) of buck converters in series are analyzed. ...
