

How to test a tantalum capacitor?

To test a tantalum capacitor, place it on a board and monitor it in real time using a measuring system. The measuring system, which measures the leakage current of tantalum capacitors, consists of a ripple source and a measuring part. The ripple voltage frequency is 100 Hz and the waveform is triangular, which is closest to the ripple voltage in normal use.

How to test a capacitor?

Thermal Stability Test. Radio Influence Voltage (RIV) Test. Voltage Decay Test. Short Circuit Discharge Test. This test ensures the withstand capability of insulation used in capacitor unit. Insulation provided on capacitor unit should be capable of withstanding high voltage ensures during transient over voltage condition.
