What is rooftop solar installation?

Rooftop solar installation involves mounting solar panels on the roof of a building to capture sunlight and convert it into electricity. It's a popular choice for commercial buildings because it gives them the opportunity to optimize unused roof space. Why should business owners consider leasing their rooftop space for solar?

Are solar panels paying rent for your roof?

Technically, they're not paying rent for your roof, because you'll get the benefit of powering your home using solar power instead of grid electricity. They'll make money from the electricity you don't use. All excess electricity generated is sold back to the grid via the Smart Export Guarantee (SEG) scheme.

Is rooftop solar a good investment?

At its core, rooftop solar is a way to pre-purchase 25 years of electricity in order to hedge against ever-rising utility rates - quite similar to buying bulk coffee grounds instead of individual Venti Lattes from Starbucks. The return on this long-term investment depends on a handful of key factors, including the price of the solar system itself.

Can you buy a house with rent-a-roof solar panels?

Buying a house with Rent-a-Roof solar panels could lead to mortgage complications. For example, if the lease includes maintenance cost obligations, or if there are certain access rights granted to the installer, a mortgage provider could be unwilling to lend.
