Most of the time, store-brand batteries are your cheapest option, but not all of them will get you a great deal. Most store-brand batteries have a much lower cost per battery than Duracell and Energizer. But on the other hand, you'll pay about $0.10 more per battery for the Walgreens brand than you will with Energizer Max.

The best budget laptop we've tested is the ASUS Vivobook 16 M1605 (2023), a 16-inch Windows ultraportable. This model feels well-built, and it isn't overly bulky or heavy for a 16-inch device, so it's still easy to carry around.

I don't need a brand new one, just one that is usable. My current battery I have to jump at least once a day, sometimes more. Once jumped and running, I have 14.2V so I think it's just the battery. I know the car sat for a long time before I got it. (in a United States city over 100k population at the moment)
